Why should I Use Epoxy Flooring?

So here are the major reasons why you should epoxy your floor:

1. Cost Effective

Installation cost for Epoxy is lower compared to some other floors.

2. Resistance

Epoxy floors are resistant to oil, gasoline, bleach, transmission fluid, cleansers and many more and is frequently used in garages and food industry. Epoxy floor coating is also heat and water-resistant and is an excellent choice for hospitals and clinics since the floor is resistant to bacteria and germs and is easy to clean and sanitize.

3. Durable

Epoxy floors have longer lifespan and offer benefits of anti-fatigue. It last for several decades without cracking or peeling, is popular for commercial and industrial use.

4. Protects

Epoxy coating protects the original concrete from moisture, stains, grease and cracks and save you a great deal on cleaning and maintenance costs

5. Appearance

Epoxy is a great choice to decorate your floors. Is available in variety of colors that add a flawless, smooth, elegant shine and can be in different personalized patterns and designs.

6. Safe

Epoxy flooring enhances visibility inside the garage by reflecting light off the floor and is resistant to slippage, temperature, extreme impact, and even fire. maintaining both the safety of your employees and your building. High gloss coatings also improve lighting to a significant degree due to reflection and can glow in dark. High vision colours and footpath in commercial area also creates a safe environment. The epoxy floor is easy to clean, saving time for cleaners. It also eliminates hot tire marks.

7. Time saving

Epoxy flooring is easy to install and requires less time shutting down production for installation.

8. Lowers vehicle maintenance

Epoxy coating also reduces wear and tear on vehicles as it is more forgiving on machinery.

9. Helps the environment

Epoxy coating reduces material usage and is seen as a green option for home and business.
