

Outdoor Veranda Epoxy and Waterproofing

Epoxy flooring is often used indoors in spaces such as garage and retail stores, and occasionally as kitchen countertops. If you are ever wondering if it can be used outdoors, well the answer is a big YES!

A veranda is one of the many spaces outside of your home or establishment where you could install epoxy flooring. In addition to that, a veranda is an open-roofed platform along the outside of a building, level with the ground floor. Being located outside means exposure to different factors caused by natural phenomena.

For this reason, it is ideal to have a durable floor for verandas that could withstand outdoor elements and provide a safe outdoor space. If you are looking for a flooring specialist that you can trust, Epoxy Flooring Brisbane is here! With years of experience in the flooring industry, we guarantee to provide the best flooring solutions for your flooring needs. Having epoxy flooring for your veranda will not only make your space safer but it will also make it attractive and easy to clean.

Perfect Flooring for Your Veranda

There are several benefits to choosing epoxy for your outdoor veranda floor. Epoxy is one of the most durable floor coatings for outdoor spaces. It can transform existing verandas into beautiful outdoor spaces.

Outdoor spaces like verandas should have floors that is capable of withstanding different weather conditions. Whether it be the sun or rain, your floors should be able to go with the flow. With epoxy flooring as your choice, your floors are heat-resistant and waterproof! How cool is that?

Epoxy flooring is a great choice for outdoor spaces. Here are more reasons why epoxy is an excellent choice for your veranda:

Durable

This is probably the thing most people love about epoxy. Its durability guarantees you almost half a lifetime as long as installed properly by a professional. There's a big difference between a professionally installed epoxy flooring compared to hardware-bought DIY kits. Even on your veranda, epoxy floor will still perform well to your needs. To ensure your epoxy floor's full potential, opt for a professional floor specialist.

Affordable

Most people pour their money on improving the indoor spaces of their homes, eventually neglecting what's left outdoors. They do this knowing that outdoor spaces, especially the floors, will be exposed to various elements anyway. With epoxy, you need not spend a lot of money and still provide the need for your outdoor space. It also saves you money in the long run since it's easy to clean, just grab a bar of soap and a pail of water. Also, take note that you get more value for your money if epoxy was installed right by a professional. Find out more about how much it will cost here.

Long-lasting

Having good floors that last long is a good investment. With epoxy flooring, you get the most out of your outdoor floor. Given their durability, epoxy floors can last up to 15 years. But of course, there are factors that can affect the longevity of your flooring. Proper preparation, installation, and maintenance are just some of the key factors to consider for you to have long-lasting epoxy floors in your veranda.

Customizable

Your outdoor floors don't need to be boring. Epoxy floors will give life to your veranda. With a wide variety of designs and colours to choose from, you could achieve whatever you are aiming for. Furthermore, additional features aren't limited to aesthetics. You could opt for anti-slip features if you want extra caution against slip-and-fall accidents. You could also request for polyurethane or urethane topcoat which works great in protecting your floors against heavy exposure to sun and UV rays. And if you really want to, we could make your floors look like stars in the night sky by opting for a glow-in-dark feature. Glow in the dark epoxy floor is great for your covered footpath and paving.

Is Epoxy Flooring Waterproof?

YES. With today's innovative flooring solution, you don't need to worry about damaged floors due to sudden or prolonged liquid exposure. Unlike other flooring systems, epoxy doesn't absorb water. It is seamless, so it doesn't have areas where water can seep through and inhibit bacteria. This makes it a perfect choice for your veranda.

Aside from being waterproof, epoxy also makes your floor mould and mildew proof. Epoxy extends the life of your concrete floor underneath, shielding it against harmful elements. This amazing product saves you money and fulfills your need for an exceptional floor.

It's all up to you!

The decision is in your hands. Having good floors for your outdoor space is important. Choosing epoxy will not just make it beautiful but also protect your floor against different elements. With so much benefits under its wing, epoxy is an all-in-one product.
